A Once Great Man Employed Here on the Government

The fact that you cannot always judge a man by his appearance or employment was, never more potently illustrated than in the case of Col Thos. B. Flagter now employed as a laborer on the Government Works at this place.

Col. "Suag Boat" Tom, having earned the sobriquet of "Snag Bont" at the time he held an im portant position on a U. S. Sung Bost, is now 55 years old, his natal day being April 1, 1841. He is a son of multi-millionaire Flagler, the oil king, and a nephew of Gen. Fingler of the U. S. Army, also a cousin of Miss Elizabeth Fingler who recently figured in the Courts of Washington City as the slayer of a colored lad whom she shot unintentionally while sheriff's office of the jail with friends.
